

“I found them at the RAA!”

That’s what RAA Chairman Rick Leach (CEO of Trans States, GoJet & Compass Airlines) said about several notable business connections he and his team of purchasing officials made at the only North American conference held by and for the regional airline industry — where over 1000 attendees network and nurture long-cycle business relationships while forging new opportunities. It only takes that one connection to pay significant dividends to both airline and supply company partner. Be the next one they find...
