

DREW JACOBY LEMOS
Vice President Government & External Affairs
Regional Airline Association

Drew Jacoby Lemos oversees the development of federal legislative priorities and strategy and leads legislative advocacy efforts on behalf of the Regional Airline Association (RAA). He joined RAA in 2017.

Previously, he served as associate director of federal government affairs for New York Governor Andrew Cuomo in his Washington, DC office. He advocated for the Governor's federal priorities across a range of issues including appropriations, transportation, and energy on Capitol Hill and throughout the Executive Branch and provided strategic counsel to senior leadership in the Governor's office and at various state departments and agencies.

Prior to the Governor's office, Drew worked for House Appropriations Chairwoman Nita Lowey (retired) where he staffed her on five of twelve appropriations subcommittees in her then capacity as Ranking Member. He also worked for former House Majority Leader Steny Hoyer during the 111th and 112th Congress.
