

CHRISTOPHER J. ROCHELEAU
Chief Operating Officer
National Business Aviation Association (NBAA)

Mr. Christopher J. Rocheleau, Chief Operating Officer, National Business Aviation Association (NBAA)

Christopher J. Rocheleau serves as the association's chief operating officer, overseeing NBAA's activities relating to aircraft and flight department operations, as well as the administrative, financial and human resources functions.

Prior to joining NBAA, Rocheleau served the FAA with distinction for over 20 years in multiple roles including acting associate administrator for aviation safety, chief of staff, assistant administrator for policy, international affairs and environment, as well as the executive director for international affairs. He has an extensive background in aviation safety, operations, and innovation.

Rocheleau holds a bachelor's degree from Central Connecticut State University and a Master of Public Administration from City University of Seattle. He has completed the Executive National Security Program at Harvard's Kennedy School of Government, and the Corporate Aviation Program at the University of Virginia's Darden School of Business.